

ABSTRACT

Non-linear regression models of a complex process and methods of modeling a complex process feature a filter based on a function of an input variable, the output of which is a predictor of the output of the complex process.

2666752_6